More than 1,000 young people took part in various sporting events on Friday, including table cricket, hockey, gymnastics and basketball. INSET: Olympic silver medallist Peter Waterfield officially opened the Winter Games at Inspire Sports Village in Stopsley

Young Olympians take part in School Winter Games festival

LUTON'S young Olympic hopefuls were joined by those from the rest of the county when they took part in the third annual School Winter Games at the Inspire Sports Village.

On Friday more than 1,000 young people aged between 7-18 years-old competed in a variety of sports including swimming, dodgeball, tag rugby, table cricket, boccia, hockey, basketball and gymnastics.

Peter Waterfield, Olympic silver medallist and Tom Daley's Olympic synchronised diving partner officially opened the games.

Gold, silver and bronze medals were awarded to the winning teams and individuals on the podium during the day.

As well as competitors, there were a number of young people taking on the roles of games makers, officials, press officers and volunteers.

The games were arranged by a local organising committee made up of head teachers, School Games organisers, team Beds & Luton and the University of Bedfordshire.

Gill Morrow, School Games Event Manager, said the games were a 'fantastic opportunity' for youngsters to be involved in the London 2012 legacy.

She said: "Each competition that took place was the county final of that sport. Teams had to compete in their School Games Area first before making it to the finals on Friday."

"There were also a significant number of young people there from the special schools and inclusion units competing across four different events."

Ali family demand 'justice'

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE family of disabled man Faruk Ali who claim he was assaulted by police officers have called for 'justice' following a heated public meeting this week.

The demands were made on Wednesday when Mr Ali's family met with councillors and Bedfordshire Police regarding an incident on February 20 in which they say Mr Ali, 33, was 'dragged', 'pulled', and 'punched' by officers outside his home in Whitby Road.

You can read full reports online at www.luton-dunstable.co.uk.

An investigation has been launched by the Beds, Cambs and Herts Police Professional Standards Department and it will be supervised by the Independent Police Complaints Commission. The officers involved have been placed on restricted duties.

The incident comes just months after the death in police custody of Leon Briggs, which is being investigated by the IPCC.

At Wednesday's meeting, Councillor Tom Shaw accused the force of 'failing' the town. He said residents should form a group which would help raise funds for those wishing to take action against the police.

Attiq Malik, the lawyer for the Ali family, said: "What the family want is justice, so we've got a five-step model for that. Initially, we want a suspension of these officers to show the community and restore faith that the police are actually taking this seriously and doing something.

"The next step would be dismissal of these officers from their duties as punishment, just like in any other work place where if someone did something wrong you'd get dismissed."

Mr Malik also said the family would consider pursuing a criminal prosecution against the force.

Assistant Chief Constable Nigel Trippett, who was at the meeting, said the force recognised the 'seriousness of this incident' and had offered an apology to the family.

He said: "We would ask that members of the public do not pre-judge the outcome of the investigation. Police officers and police staff in Luton do a difficult and sometimes dangerous job and in the course of their duties they deal with many thousands of incidents a year, the vast majority of which are dealt with successfully and without any complaints.

"Over the past year, police officers and police staff have worked tirelessly to keep the people of Luton safe and to prevent and detect crime."

He added: "The police in Luton need the support of the public to do their job and we would welcome the opportunity to meet with Cllr Shaw to discuss with him how we can work together to make Luton a safer place."

Teenager was killed by stab wound to the heart

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A PATHOLOGIST has told a murder trial jury this week how teenager Micah Urquhart died from a stab wound to his heart.

Dr Olaf Biedrzycki told Luton Crown Court on Thursday that after 19-year-old Micah had received the fatal stab wound in Hastings Street in the town, it still would have been possible for him to walk a short distance, but only for tens of seconds before collapsing.

The consultant forensic pathologist was giving evidence on day two of the trial in which teenagers Paul Lynam, 18, and Waqar Younis, 19, both plead not guilty to murdering Micah on September 12 last year.

He told the court that when carrying out a post-mortem on Micah on September 13 last year at Bedford Hospital, he found the teenager had suffered a series of superficial punctures, two slash wounds, as well as more serious stab wounds.

The doctor told the court the fatal wound was one delivered to Micah's chest. It had passed through muscle and between the fourth and fifth rib and damaged his breast bone.

The blade from the knife used, said Dr Biedrzycki, had then damaged the front wall of Micah's heart causing blood to pour into his chest cavity and the pericardium, the fluid-filled sac that surrounds the heart.

The jury were told that as the sac filled with blood, pressure would have been exerted on Micah's heart.

Micah died in the early hours of September 13 last year after being fatally stabbed.

Dr Biedrzycki said the degree of force used to inflict the fatal wound would have been "high moderate to severe".

Earlier the jury had been told that Micah, who grew up in Hitchin and Stevenage, was a "troubled" teenager who had been in care and under the supervision of Herts County Council.

Last April it had been decided by those responsible for his care to move him into a tiny single occupancy flat in Hastings Street, Luton, to help him learn to "integrate" better. But the court was told he was "barely able to cope with living in his own".

The flat fell into disarray and became a haunt for anti-social visitors including, it's claimed, the two defendants.

The jury were told the relationship between Micah and the accused deteriorated in the weeks leading up to his death.

Windows at his flat were broken, so too was a gate outside. Items from inside the flat were taken, said the prosecutor.

Mr Younis was said to have threatened Micah with a knife and there had been a complaint made to the police that the deceased had put bricks through the windows at Mr Younis's parents home.

Mr Coughlin, prosecuting, said it was against this background that the accused decided to "take matters into their own hands" and, shortly before midnight on September 12 last year, make their way to Hastings Street where the attack took place.

The case continues.

FOOTBALL RESEARCH GRANT

A UNIVERSITY has been given £12,000 to investigate how heat and altitude might affect players at the World Cup.

The University of Bedfordshire was given the grant to assess how extreme environments impact on sporting performance.

The tournament is set to be held in Brazil later this year amid some high temperatures.

Dr Lee Taylor, a lecturer at the university, said: "This grant will enable us to quantify the exact effects heat and altitude can have on footballer's maximum performance for the first time."

Excellence recognised at annual awards night

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

INDIVIDUAL brilliance, teamwork and leadership skills were all celebrated at Luton council's annual Excellence Awards.

On Thursday night around 350 people attended the event at Barnfield West Academy which was funded by a range of external sponsors and suppliers, led by Overbury and supported by Unison's branch in the town.

Awards were given out in 11 categories, with the aim of recognising the dedication, hard work, and commitment of council colleagues in their service to the people of Luton.

Special long-service awards, sponsored by UK Power Networks, were given to 87 employees who were celebrating working at the authority and in schools across the town for more than 25 years.

There were also presentations to couples and individuals who have served five, ten, or 15 years as foster carers in the borough, sponsored by Millbrook Healthcare.

The council's chief executive, Trevor

HONOUR: The parking enforcement team won Team of the Year award

Holden, said: "The Luton Excellence Awards are an opportunity for us to say a big thank you to some of the people who continually go the extra mile so Luton residents can receive the best possible service."

"Given the challenges we are continuing to face as a local authority, the effort, commitment and enthusiasm of our colleagues is simply outstanding. I would also like to thank all of the sponsors who generously supported the event, enabling us to celebrate our employees at no cost to the taxpayer."

The band revealed it during

Speaking about the 'foursie', Jaymi said: "We've had an amazing time on the shoot and we loved the four-sie, although it was hard to get into without falling over!"

"Everyone should get involved and join in the fun – simply grab your gear from Sainsbury's and sign up for the Sainsbury's Sport Relief Games at sportrelief.com."

MP wants clarity on prostitution law

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

LAWMAKERS should send 'clear signals' about the nature of prostitution and target men who buy sex, an MP has said.

Gavin Shuker, MP for Luton South, said women who sold sex were targeted while men who 'create the demand' walked away.

His comments came following the publication of a report by a cross-party group of MPs and peers which called for a reform in the UK's prostitution laws.

Mr Shuker, who chaired the group, said current legislation was not working and needed changing.

The study gathered more than 400 written and oral submissions of evidence and found that, among other things, loopholes allowed men to escape prosecution for abusing girls as young as 13, and women were being trafficked into the country to be repeatedly raped.

Recommendations that came out of the report include the creation of a single law which would be 'underpinned by clear principles that prosecute those who purchase sex, not those that sell it'.

Mr Shuker said: "This report concludes that because our lawmakers send no clear signals about the nature of prostitution, the most visible – women who sell sex – are targeted, while men who create the demand often walk away, without taking responsibility for the damage they do.

"Alarming submissions highlighted the number of women who were survivors of child sexual exploitation; care leavers; or who entered the trade at an age where they could not consent."

Last year, Luton council and Bedfordshire Police announced a five-year plan to tackle the on-street sex trade in High Town with a view to eradicate it by 2018.

At the time, both organisations said their strategy would focus on tackling demand, developing routes out for the women involved, prevention, and ensuring justice and community engagement.

Mr Shuker said a focus in the law on men who buy sex would help the authorities tackle the 'root cause' of the problem in places such as High Town.

He said: "For most women in on-street work, drug and alcohol abuse are a fact of life.

"All this is a world away from the myth of the 'happy hooker' promoted on television and in film.

"A focus on those who create the demand for prostitution tackles the root cause – men who believe it is acceptable to purchase sex, at the cost of the individuals they buy it from, and the communities affected."

Kids in character for book day

PUPILS at a primary school celebrated World Book Day this week by dressing up as their fictional favourites from children's stories.

On Thursday Sundon Park Junior pupils held a reading session in the school hall while dressed as characters such as 'Thing 1' from the Cat in the Hat and an Oompa Loompa from Charlie and the Chocolate Factory.

Over the next two weeks, the children will be doing a range of activities, as well as participating in a book exchange and using War Horse author Michael Morpurgo's method of 'think it, tell it and write it'.

Gillian Walters, deputy headteacher at the school, said: "World Book Day is an excellent way of getting children excited about books.

"Reading helps to stimulate children's language development and enhances their vocabularies as well as increases their attention spans."

Barton bites back over gypsy sites

BY KATHRYN CAIN

kathryn.cain@bedsonsunday.com

CENTRAL Bedfordshire Council is being accused of hypocrisy by proposing to build a gypsy site on green belt land - while fighting the government for allowing a different site also on protected soil.

On Wednesday night Barton le Clay residents met up in a show of strength to discuss the best ways to fight the council's plan to create a 15-pitch gypsy and traveller site at Faldo Road.

More than 100 people turned up to the meeting where members of the Barton Residents Action Group (BRAG) advised on the core reasons they believe the site should be deemed 'unsound' when it goes before an inspector later this year.

Currently the authority is holding a public consultation on the plan which runs until March 31.

Last year the secretary of state granted temporary permission for a gypsy site at Heath and Reach, which was originally rejected by Central Beds Council because it lay within the green belt. The council is now taking the government to the High Court over the decision.

Furthermore, in January this year minister Brandon Lewis stated that gypsy and traveller sites were an 'inappropriate' development within the green belt.

Councillor for Barton le Clay, Ian Shingler said: "Brandon Lewis made it crystal clear that travellers sites were an inappropriate development in the green belt. We are winning the argument, but just not with the council."

A spokeswoman for Central Beds Council said: "The guidance from Brandon Lewis seemed to refer to unauthorised encampments and not new sites allocated through a plan - which is what we are preparing. We are however expecting new guidance to be issued shortly. We are preparing a plan based on the NPPF and planning policy for traveller sites."

Cloudy2Clear Windows - Service With A Smile!

ADVERTISEMENT

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

"The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Tons of rubbish dumped illegally

AN investigation has been launched after criminals cut a lorry-sized hole in an empty warehouse and filled the building with tons of rubbish.

The Environment Agency said around 3,000 cubic metres of waste was dumped in the warehouse at the former Ecomold site in Luton Road, Dunstable, between November 16 and November 20 last year.

Anyone with information can contact the agency on 0800 807060 quoting CMS 16469.

Carer took £35k of elderly lady's cash

BY JULIA SUTTON

editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A WOMAN who looked after a vulnerable 67-year-old disabled lady in Dunstable and took more than £35,000 of her life savings has been jailed for 18 months.

Debra Thompson, 21, of Thortondale, managed to get her hands on the bank cards of her victim, Denise Newson.

On Tuesday, she was told in Luton Crown Court that what she'd done was a flagrant breach of trust.

Thompson admitted three counts of fraud.

Between October 2012 and June of last year Thompson embarked on what was described as a 'spending spree' with Mrs Newson's credit and debit cards.

Sadly Mrs Newson, who suffered from multiple system atrophy which had left her housebound, immobile and in need of constant care, never lived to see justice catch up with Thompson.

The 67-year-old died over Christmas, after telling her family: "I've had enough now, I feel beaten."

Andrew Lewis, prosecuting, said that in order to help the carer with shopping chores, Mrs Newson had made her bank cards available to Thompson.

Dominic Woollard, defending Thompson, said: "She is never going to forgive herself for the actions she took."

"She will take this with her for the rest of her life."

He added: "She accepts she can never make right what she has done."

Police visibility in Bedfordshire

SIR – I don't know where Leighton Linslade Mayor and Conservative Councillor Dodwell has been for the 14 months since I was first elected (LoS Letters March 2, 2014), but addressing the visibility of Bedfordshire Police across the county has been a constant theme for me during this period, and something that I have repeatedly spoken about.

Hence the statement on the first page of my Police and Crime Plan, published soon after I took office, which reads that: "The clear message that came across during the election campaign was that people want a visible and publicly accountable police force in Bedfordshire" (the full document is available at www.bedspsc.org).

Hence practically the first significant decision I took was to reverse the planned 33 per cent cut in our Police Community Support Officers, a decision taken by the previous Police Authority for budgetary reasons.

Hence too my plan to more than double the size of our Special Constabulary, volunteer police officers who nonetheless have the same powers, uniform and equipment as their full-time counterparts.

Hence the recent recruitment of 80 new police officers after almost four years of a freeze on recruitment, allowing the force to re-balance and bolster the front line.

Hence our plans to revolutionise the Information Technology used by our officers, enabling them to spend a far

No excuse for holiday prices

SIR – There have been questions asked in the Houses of Parliament about parents taking children out of school during term time because the price of holidays goes up during the school holidays.

They can be hundreds of pounds dearer. My wife works at a school in Luton and has tried to get time off during the term. But if you let one do it, then everyone wants time off.

People have talked about staggering the holidays but that does not work.

The problem is not with the schools. In my view the problem is the greedy holiday operators and hotels.

Years ago people did not go away in the spring and autumn but now its still warm in Spain and so people get away.

I can perhaps understand the prices years ago with generally shorter holiday periods.

But now holidays are nine months of the year so people do not need to hike up the prices during the school holidays.

But of course we have a situation where big companies are running the holiday industry.

They have got their own planes, transfers and hotels.

They have got the market cornered and can do as they like.

Now these are the people that our MPs and the various action groups have got to target and not the schools.

which are very hard to connect using traditional solutions.

I have recently been contacted by the European Satellite Operators Association (ESOA).

They are claiming that satellite connections can provide a service of 20Mbps. They have launched a website www.broadbandforall.eu which offers further information.

I would be very interested to know more about local people's experiences of this technology.

Have you considered using a satellite solution? Have you tried to use it? Do you use it? Do you have recommendations or thoughts you can share? Please get in touch with me at office@vickyford.org.

We must protect the children

SIR – In June the UK Government hosts a global summit on sexual violence in conflict. UNICEF UK is calling for international leaders to commit to protect children. We want the UK Government to make sure the summit prioritises measures to help children hold their abusers to account. We need your help to turn political will into practical action. Please add your voice now to our call to help end sexual violence against children in conflict: www.unicef.org.uk/endsexualviolence.

Views on satellite broadband

SIR – A good internet connection is vital for businesses and increasingly for households too.

The UK has higher broadband coverage than Germany, France, Italy and Spain but there is still much more to do.

Across the east of England councils are helping to unlock faster broadband in rural communities but there are still some areas greater proportion of their time out in communities rather than sat in front of a computer terminal at the police station.

I am confident that these plans will make Bedfordshire Police more visible across both our urban and rural communities, even at a time when significant government funding cuts mean that overall police officer numbers in the county will continue to fall.

So it's all over for another year. The Oscars have been won, the speeches heard, the thanks made and the champagne popped.

The media has pored over the winners and losers, and mainly the dresses, into which the stars have poured themselves, to see who revealed most.

As an aside, this is another occasion when it is much easier to be a man. Black tie, white shirt, dinner suit. I, like most men, then think I look like James Bond. The present Mrs Lowe, says more like Jimmy Tarbuck.

Hollywood is awash with glitter, tears of victory and defeat, slurs and slurring. There are plenty of reasons to see why actors and actresses have to be given lines and learn them, when you hear them making it up. Still they are our heroes and heroines. It may be all a load of made up tosh but it is compelling tosh. And it helps to pass the time (although as Beckett once said, it would have passed anyway).

But more than any other country, American Gods make believe, including the main one of course, God himself. But nowhere else are actors treated as heroes and nowhere else are they heroically playing super-beings permanently fighting evil. And, regarding the Oscars, rarely do the best films, actors, actresses actually win.

And the winner is... yet another awards night

Perhaps that is the way of awards, where other factors have to come in rather than what is simply the best. I say this with no malice and as a person who has won the occasional award, although I have never been allowed to make a speech. And awards are big these days.

Businesses, sports men and women, even newspapers, hold awards to see who is the best in their own local world. And what is wrong with that, I hear you ask. Nothing at all, I love to win them, and this newspaper to win them. It tells the public we are doing a good job and our peers we are doing a better job than them, or at least we are luckier. I like good luck.

There are a few dangers though. One is taking them too seriously. As Brucie would say, they are just a bit of fun. Second we are in danger of overkill, as we have beards of the year, male and female, tea of the year, pasty of the year and on and on and on. Lastly they do not seem always to be in touch with the moment.

The Zeitgeist may be more transient, self-effacing, collective than the over-dressed individual giving sentimental, drunken thank yous to everyone who knows them. Still, congratulations to the winners, commiserations to the losers and a special thank you to all those who made it possible.

Good night and good luck.

MICHAEL Gove cannot help himself commenting on every aspect of education and training in this country. And why shouldn't he, as Secretary of State for Education and Training.

There is, however one area of training that seriously and urgently needs looking at. That is the training of our police forces.

As I have written before, something seems to be badly wrong, and it probably starts at the beginning.

Go to it Mr Gove.

Children enjoy the fun of the carnival!

PUPILS from Sacred Heart Primary School in Luton and Goldington Green Academy, Bedford visited the UK Centre for Carnival Arts (UKCCA) to take part in special workshops.

The key stage two pupils learnt how to make carnival headdresses, decorating them to look like the spectacular pieces seen at Luton's annual carnival.

The UKCCA's Mas Band in residence, Rampage, also led a dance workshop teaching the youngsters some serious soca steps.

In between the workshops,

School children had the chance to learn about carnival at the town's UK Centre for Carnival Arts as JULIA SUTTON discovered teachers and students from the schools were treated to a spectacular drumming and dance performance by The Ghana Society, showing off their energetic act and incredible costumes.

When asked about his thoughts on the day, Reece Smith, a year 6 student at Sacred Heart Primary School, said: "I really enjoyed the day and had a lot of fun. My favourite part of it was learning how to do the carnival dance as it was very energetic."

"I had fun making my hat as well and am going to put it on display in my room. I really want to go to the carnival this year!"

CARNIVAL FUN: School pupils from Luton and Bedford enjoyed special workshop sessions at the UKCCA including music, dance and how to make their own spectacular carnival headdresses

POP STARS UNITED: Luton Town players step up to the mic

Hatters are singing as they're winning

MEMBERS of the Luton Town first team squad have been helping local punk band UK Decay record a new song this week.

The recording took place at the Hat Factory on Tuesday afternoon and a spokesman for the Hatters said the song name was 'synonymous' with the club.

More details about the project will be released some time in the next few weeks. The production of the EP will be done by Luton-based companies.

Caravan raider is jailed for 6 years

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAN who was in a gang that carried out a terrifying robbery in the yard of a company in the town has been jailed for six years.

Wayne Moran, 46, of Hillborough Road, hid his face with a white bandana when he and three others crept into the yard of Des Spence Drains in Wimbourne Road last September.

It was just after 6.15am and the gang had their eye on a caravan parked in the yard. It was home to a worker for the company, Jack Gittings, who was asleep inside.

He was woken by the sound of tapping on the caravan and looked out of a window to see the gang in the yard.

He told Luton Crown Court of his terror as the gang tried to force their way inside as he desperately tried to keep the door shut.

In his panic, Mr Gitting said he climbed out of a window to try to escape but was quickly caught, beaten up and robbed. The gang fled with his laptop, mobile phone and £25 cash.

But in their haste to escape they left a vital clue behind - a sock.

Forensic examinations revealed Moran's DNA and he was arrested.

Moran was found guilty of the robbery by a jury who were then told how, over the years, he had chalked up 24 previous convictions for a total of 64 offences including theft and firearms.

Fuel station worker stole £3k from tills

BY JULIA SUTTON

editor@lutonsunday.co.uk

A FUEL station worker stole more than £3,000 from his boss because he was in debt to a family friend, a court heard.

Nasir Riasat, of Northdrift Way, Luton, stole the cash from the petrol station where he worked in Kempston, near Bedford, using a fuel card mistakenly left behind by a customer.

Bedford Magistrates' Court heard on Tuesday that the 22-year-old began working there for a man named Mr Khan last summer and began taking money from the tills after borrowing £5,500 from a 'family friend' who was pressuring him to repay.

The court heard that when there were no customers in the store, Riasat would run the card through the till and use the pin number supplied on it to put through a transaction. He would then refund it but take the cash for himself.

Between August 14 and September 21 he stole around

NASIR RIASAT: Stole from tills

£3,000 from his employer.

Prosecuting, Toby Earncliffe, said: "The owner of the petrol station, Mr Khan, was contacted by the owner of the card which led him to check the CCTV and he saw that when there were no customers present, the defendant was swiping the card, typing in the pin number, carrying out the transaction and then refunding himself. "Mr Khan accepted he had committed the offence but essentially Mr Riasat didn't keep up payments as quickly as Mr Khan would have liked and after a period of time the police became involved."

Defending, Andy Smith said: "The requests for repayment from the 'friend' became more and more urgent, threats were issued. We're not saying this was committed under duress, but he felt personally under threat and made the wrong decisions as to how to repay the money."

Mr Smith told the court that since the offences took place, Riasat had voluntarily paid back the full £3,000 to Mr Khan.

Riasat, who is now training to be a barber, pleaded guilty to two charges of fraud by false representation and was given a 12 month community order with supervision and must complete 180 hours of unpaid work. He must also pay court costs of £85 and a victim surcharge of £60.

The sweet taste

BY FRAN GOSLING
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

IT might be a few years since Willy Wonka packed away his gobstoppers, but JO and JACK at Sweet Perfection in Toddington have gambled their careers to prove that the nation's tooth is as sweet as ever.

After 10 years working as a practice nurse, Jo Payne, 42 and her partner Jack Rolf, 51, both of Manor Road in Toddington, last year decided to bite the gummy bullet and open an old-fashioned village sweet shop - with some unique twists.

With two big schools in Toddington and others in the surrounding villages, opening a high street sweet shop seemed like a fool-proof business idea. But their biggest market wasn't necessarily the one they were expecting.

"Sweets never go out of fashion," says Jack. "And some of our retro classics have attracted just as many adults as children. We even take order forms round to the houses of some of the elderly people in the area who love their regular supply," he adds.

Keen to make sure they offer something for everyone, Jo and Jack - names that couldn't sound more fitting for village sweetshop owners - have stocked up on a range of gluten and sugar free options, old school classics, American favourites, imported liquo-rices and, for the more grown up tastes, a whole cabinet of beautifully decorated, handmade Belgian chocolates, that would put any oompa-loompa to shame. Sweet Perfection opened with a pre-Christmas bang last November and the pair have enjoyed success ever since. "Coming up to Christmas you couldn't move for people in the shop!" says Jack.

But what makes the shop a true gem in the Toddington chocolate box is that it has built itself on a true basis of

Community shows its support for Ava

"WE'VE got her back' – the words that changed our lives forever."

This is the opening line on the Just Giving page that has been set up to raise money for a machine which saved the life of a four-year-old girl from Caddington.

On January 12 Ava Mear fell ill and was taken to Luton & Dunstable Hospital after experiencing breathing difficulties.

Once there, doctors quickly saw that her condition was something they could not treat so Ava was sent to Great Ormond Street Hospital

Four-year-old Ava Mear, from Caddington, survived four heart attacks after falling ill. CARL MUNGAZI finds out more about her incredible story and how the village has rallied round her (GOSH) in London. She was diagnosed as suffering from a streptococcal infection which spread through toxic shock.

Ava's father Clive, 44, explained: "The ambulance took us to Great Ormond Street Hospital and we had been there for about two hours when she went into cardiac arrest.

"They got her back and she had a heart attack three times in about 45 minutes. "On the third time they told us that was it and that we should say goodbye – and we did. We went to the parents' lounge room and then the surgeon came in and said 'we've got her back'.

The medical staff had hooked Ava up to a heart and lung machine called an 'ECMO' machine.

Despite suffering a fourth heart attack during the procedure, she survived.

The machine, which costs £80,000, helped Ava recover while looking after her blood flow.

There are only 20 of them in the UK and soon after the operation, the Mear family started a fundraising drive to buy a new one for GOSH. They have been supported by their community in Caddington village.

Residents have organised various fundraising events, including one on Tuesday where people dressed up as superheroes. They collected £1,010 to take their tally to more than £6,000.

Mr Mear said: "It's taken off whilst Amy is still battling through it all and it's just amazing."

Why Mark Thomas is dancing naked in front of the CCTV cameras

COMEDY

MARK THOMAS

Bedford Palace Theatre

March 21

MARK THOMAS, comedian and political activist, has pledged to commit 100 Acts of Minor Dissent in one year; partly for fun, partly because he's an awkward cuss and partly because it's the premise on which his current touring show is based.

If he fails his penalty will be to pay £1,000 to UKIP – or as he calls it, 'the political equivalent of chlamydia'.

In advance of his visit to Bedford later this month, JUDY RILEY talked to Mark about the progress of his mission, dancing naked on CCTV and local opportunities available to him for making mischief.

Q. Have you always been a rebel?

A. "Dunno. No, I'm sure I haven't. But I'm sure it has its merits. Anyway, I don't regard myself as a rebel, I regard myself as right."

Q. When did you first realise you could make people laugh?

A. "I don't know – quite early on. As a kid I can remember telling my dad a joke I nicked from Steptoe and Son and he laughed a lot."

"I'd take an idea and step over the boundaries."

"People would tell me not to do it and I thought that was a good way to operate."

Q. When did you associate making people laugh with stepping over those boundaries?

A. "I wanted to be like Lenny Bruce but I realised very quickly that I didn't have the skills."

"I wrote a set that worked that I did for about a year and then the second set I wrote was all about sex and sexuality."

"Then I realised that everyone was doing it and I liked the idea of doing things differently."

"Now I have my little adventures... I used to work with my dad; he was self-taught and a self-employed builder."

"It was an interesting period to go through as a stand-up. I started to get work but it wasn't enough to go full-time so I worked with my dad through the middle of the week when gigs were scarce."

Q. How much vulnerability are you prepared to reveal on stage? (Mark Thomas took a break from political activism recently when he produced Bravo Figaro, a poignant and revealing show based on his relationship with his dying father).

A. "Bravo Figaro was great. It was an emotionally satisfying project."

"I put more of myself into that show than any other but the interesting thing is, I loved it."

"The next, new show that I'm working on is a return to that area."

Q. Did you draw up a plan or schedule when you were working on 100 Acts of Minor Dissent and have you added to it as you've gone along?

A. "No, I didn't draw up a plan but I certainly should have done. The show changes all the time because new things come up. Now I'm just wondering how I'm going to get through all 100."

"By the end of February I should be into the 70s... It means I have to do something everyday but you get knackered so sometimes I take the weekend off."

Q. What's the silliest act that you've done?

A. "I quite often do something that's silly. It's probably dancing naked, in front of CCTV cameras, in a public toilet in Liberty's, the posh shop in London."

Q. And what would you say was the most significant act of dissent?

A. "There are two. I helped secure better conditions and union recognition for Curzon cinema workers."

"And taking the police to court to get them to delete data they hold about me."

"I've succeeded in getting them to delete my fingerprints and DNA. I hope it will change policy."

Q. Was this project a good idea?

"Yes. People enjoy it and it's going well, thank you."

Q. Do you have any plans for acts of dissent in Bedfordshire?

A. "There's always things you can do. What is there to dissent about in Bedfordshire?"

I suggested a couple of possibilities. Do you have any thoughts...?

Mark Thomas is planning to commit 100 acts of 'minor dissent' this year

COMEDY

LAURENCE CLARK

The Hat Factory
March 27

LAURENCE Clark is touring his Edinburgh smash-hit show Inspired and he is bringing it to the Hat Factory at the end of this month.

From mountain climbing to Doctor Who, via the Swedish chef from The Muppets, this consummate comedian sorts out once and for all what's truly inspiring.

In his inimitable style Laurence flips our idea of what's inspirational on its head.

After a sell-out Edinburgh run last year, the show now takes to the road.

Expect absurd logic, death-defying stunts and unusual varieties of crisps... just don't expect to come away 'inspired'.

The show focuses on how Laurence is often told he's 'inspirational' for doing ordinary, everyday activities.

Laurence said: "It's my pet hate. Whether it's for being married, doing stand-up or having kids, it just seems like they thought I'd never amount to much."

"I love to inspire people with my stand-up comedy but don't call me inspirational for just getting on with my life."

In 2012, Laurence featured in the BBC1 documentary, We Won't Drop the Baby, which was Pick of the Day in The Sunday Times, Mail on Sunday and The Telegraph.

Tickets cost £8 and can be booked by calling 01582 878100. You can also book by visiting www.lutonculture.com/hat-factory.

Non-Stop action for Liam Neeson

FILM

NON-STOP

Now showing in cinemas

LIAM Neeson has a very particular set of skills. Skills he has acquired over a very long career. Skills that make him the king of action B-Movies.

Neeson has done a 'reverse Matthew McConaughey' – transforming himself from a serious award-winning actor in films such as Michael Collins and Schindler's List, into a fist-clenching Hollywood beefcake in movies like Taken and The Grey.

But that's OK, at least we know what we're getting ourselves in for these days with a Neeson flick – a daft but entertaining action thriller.

Non-Stop sees a depressed Air Marshal named Bill Marks (played by Neeson), who receives a text message mid-flight warning him that someone on-board will be killed every 20 minutes unless $150 million is wired into an electronic account.

As an audience, we get to play "Guess Who" alongside Bill, as he races against the clock to figure out the identity of the killer.

It's almost laughable how shifty each central character looks, making them all potential suspects.

Before long, we're left wondering whether we can even trust Bill.

This adventure flick reunites Neeson with director Jaume Collet-Serra but don't worry, this is more satisfying than their previous collaboration, Unknown, which lost its way after 45 minutes.

There are a few plot holes in the script but if you're able to turn off your overhead light (brain) for a couple of hours, then they shouldn't become too distracting.

In fact, switching off your brain is the key to getting the most out of this action thriller.

So, sit back, relax, enjoy your flight, and let Neeson warm you up for the bigger and louder blockbusters out this summer.

Youth set to show they've got talent. . .

REHEARSALS are well under way for the next annual Celebration of Youth concert to be held next Sunday, March 16, at the Venue 360 in Gypsy Lane, starting at 3pm.

Compered by Richard Sisson, the line-up includes Luton Youth Jazz Orchestra, Luton Youth Cantores, The Stage One Theatre School, Greenbank Music Village, and the Next Generation Youth Theatre.

Each year the young artists showcase their creative talents.

This year's charity show is being promoted by the Rotary Club of Luton Someries and will raise funds for the East Anglian Air Ambulance Service, Canine Partners and other Rotary Funded Projects.

Tickets cost £10, with concessions at £8 for an afternoon of musical entertainment.

A spokesman for the Rotary Club said: "The support of the Luton community is essential in making this programme a roaring success."

You can purchase tickets by calling 01582 966208 or emailing tickets@luton-somerries.org.uk

Music offers Chess the chance to break free from prison life

THEATRE

HOPELESSLY DEVOTED

The Hat Factory
March 18, 7.30pm

FOLLOWING her smash-hit debut Wasted, Kate Tempest's incendiary new play combines lyrical fireworks with exhilarating live music.

The play is about devotion because everyone knows about devotion, right? A parent, a football fan, an athlete, a scientist, a priest.

Chess is in prison, facing a lengthy sentence when her cell mate becomes her soul mate.

But when Serena is given parole, Chess faces total isolation.

Hope comes in the form of a music producer looking for a reason to love music again. She finds a powerful voice in Chess, but to harness her talent, Chess must first face her past.

This new play by acclaimed playwright Tempest visits the Hat Factory, with its live music and breathtaking lyrical brilliance.

Hopelessly Devoted is a Paines Plough and Birmingham Repertory Theatre production which has received widespread critical acclaim.

The Guardian newspaper said 'as much gig as theatre... the writing simply fizzles with truth', while the Public Reviews website said 'outstanding... the writing is fantastic, with just the right balance of spoken word, song and dialogue'.

Tickets cost £10, with concessions at £8. Those with a NUS card pay £5 and under-18s pay £3. The production is only suitable for those aged 14 and over, and the show runs for 80 minutes.

To book, call the box office on 01582 878100 or visit www.thehatfactory.org.

ADIDAS FOOTBALL KIT

DOES your 5-a-side team need a makeover? Still wearing tired old kit and mismatching socks?

If so, PlayFootball and adidas, is on hand to help.

Luton on Sunday has teamed up with our friends at PlayFootball and adidas to help get you and your team making sure that you not only play the part but look it too by winning a bespoke set of the adidas autheno 5-a-side team-wear kit.

If you and your team mates are over 16 and have not yet registered a team into a PlayFootball Adult League next door to the Stopsley High School, what's stopping you?

PlayFootball Leagues are fully accredited by The Football Association and the St Thomas's Road Play Football centre offer players state-of-the-art floodlit 3G all-weather pitches, with a sports bar and changing rooms.

Whatever your standard or playing history PlayFootball has a longstanding and passionate commitment to get Britain playing football, offering 30, 40 or 60-minute game times during flexible weekday evenings and all weekend.

What's more, recent research analysis undertaken by PlayFootball shows that men who play 5-a-side football enjoy a high intensity workout comparable to many of the benefits of traditional exercise regimes, leading to numerous long-term health benefits.

And don't forget that if you're over 35 but still want to get back into the game, PlayFootball can help with their dedicated Masters Leagues catering for football veterans from 35 years old.

To be in with a chance of winning a bespoke adidas team kit, including full goal keeper kit and shirt, shorts and socks for six outfield players, simply tell us:

How many outfield players are there in a 5-a-side football team?

Is it a) 4 b) 5 or c) 6

PRESS RELEASE

February 2014

Connells in Stopsley enjoys busy start to the year

It's been a frantic start to 2014 for Connells in Stopsley. Branch Manager Will Jones is expecting the local property market to keep on getting busier.

Since the turn of the year buyer interest has surged to new highs not seen nationally since the housing boom in 2007. Will and his team have put in a lot of hard work and determination whilst enjoying great success off the back of renewed buyer confidence and greater availability of mortgages.

Buoyed by the great start to the year his team are enjoying, Will says: "My team's effort and determination has been second to none. It has been great to see everyone enjoying their work, helping so many customers buy and sell homes in and around Stopsley."

Despite the rejuvenation of the local property market, supply of homes to sell is being massively outweighed by buyer's demands. Will however, believes that one area of local housing stock in real need of coming back onto the market is first-time buyer two bedroom properties.

"At present, two bedroom homes are on the market for less than a week before being snapped up, in the most part for asking price too," says Will. "This says a lot about the current market and anybody looking to upsize or move home should consider putting their property onto the market sooner rather than later to miss the spring rush."

If you are thinking of moving home or would like a free market appraisal then call Connells in Stopsley on 01582 737069 or email stopsley@connells.co.uk

Luton Borough Council THE BOROUGH OF LUTON (VARIOUS ROADS) (TEMPORARY ROAD CLOSURES) (NO.2) ORDER 2014

NOTICE is hereby given that on 3rd March 2014 Luton Borough Council, the Highway Authority for the said Borough, made the above Order under the relevant provisions of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 (as amended).
The Order will come into operation on 3rd March 2014 for a period of 18 months or when the proposed works have been completed. The Order will therefore be in operation when signs are displayed.
The effect of the Order will allow the Council to close to traffic the roads and lengths of roads in the Schedule below. The Order is intended to create a window for the works to be done and it is anticipated that the works will be completed over a period within the dates described as above. Specific times and dates will be signed locally.
The purpose of the Order is to enable highway improvement works to be carried out.
The Order will also provide for a "No Waiting Monday to Saturday 8am to 6pm" waiting restriction to apply in each road for the period of the closure. This will be in force when cones are displayed. Vehicles will be prohibited from accessing and parking on the road with exception to vehicles used by the emergency services and vehicles being used in connection with the works. LUTON extended their unbeaten Skril Premier run to 26 matches and their lead at the top of the table to 15 points after a goalless draw at play-off chasing Salisbury yesterday.

Town will not face many more meatier tests than this with the season's end in sight as the home side took the fight to the league leaders.

For much of this intriguing affair City, boasting twelve home league wins, looked well equipped to finally end Luton's remarkable unbeaten spell but could not take the limited clear-cut chances afforded to Dan Fitchett and Rob Sinclair either side of the break.

Luton bit back near the conclusion to almost break the spirited hosts but Andre Gray and especially Paul Benson uncharacteristically spurned chances to snatch the win.

Not a seventh straight win but with second placed Cambridge floundering to a 3-2 defeat at Forest Green, the Hatters are another point closer to the Football League.

Now galloping towards promotion, Town made just one change to their side.

The extent of talismanic midfielder Luke Guttridge's foot injury, suffered in the closing stages of last Saturday's 3-0 Alfreton win, is yet to be fully ascertained.

However it was severe enough to hand a start to Alex Lawless, alongside young prodigies Pelly Ruddock and Cameron McGeehan in midfield.

Despite ruthless form of late, Luton have been prone to slow starts on occasion and again they struggled to find their feet as the home side began brighter. Clovis Kamdjo's eighth-minute header from a corner lacked the power but held some form of direction and had it not been for Hatters goalkeeper Mark Tyler, Chris McPhee would have been on hand to nudge home.

Five minutes later alarm bells were again ringing as Elliot Frear tamely shot into Tyler's hands after outfoxing Scott Griffiths down the left. Salisbury were proving a handful.

Not that former Luton Town striker and now City player-assistant manager Warren Feeney was impressed as he fiercely barked out instructions from the gantry above the dugout. No sentiment from the man who spent over two years at Kenilworth Road. He was intent on derailing Town's promotion push.

Top scorer Fitchett especially exasperated the veteran Northern Irishman as he failed to connect properly when allowed a sight of goal 18 yards out.

RUGBY UNION

BY TIM BARTLETT
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

LUTON RFC celebrated Irish Day in style at Newlands Road yesterday, running in 11 tries and beating Chingford 76-15 in London 1 North.

"This is how Luton want to play rugby," said Backs Coach Nick Rhodes. "We were irresistible today, our lines, our support, it was precision."

Jake Hobbs' hat-trick was the seventh scored by a Luton player this season, and with each one costing Rhodes a new pair of boots, such outstanding individual performances are proving expensive.

"Robbie Smith might have scored three today as well," said Rhodes. "He [Smith] was outstanding at scrum-half, his cover tackles got the backs moving early."

Luton's vice skipper Steve Ellis contributed two tries to the cause.

"The forwards are winning us clean ball, and the backs are tearing through anyone that's put in front of us," said Ellis. "It's all coming together, it's really clicking for us."

Luton's other tries were run in by Ben Murphy, Adam Harris, Chris Davis and Mike Weston, while Kiwi Chris Talanoa was on target with frightening accuracy, slotting ten out of a possible 11 conversions.

However, while Luton sit third in the league, they're now reliant on the teams above them dropping points if they're to reach this season's play-offs.

"We've still got four games to play," said Rhodes. "But now things are out of our hands somewhat."

"We now need someone to take some points off one of the teams above us."

Luton now enjoy a rest week, before travelling to Romford & Gidea Park on March 22, a side they beat 25-12 when they last met back in November.

DUNSTABLIANS beat Oadby Wyggestonians 18-15 in dramatic fashion in Midlands 2 East South, with a last gasp drop goal winning it with seconds left.

"It was good to get back to winning ways," said Dees prop-forward Simon George, following a poor run of form that made this weekend's victory only their second since the New Year. "We had the edge up front but they came out the strongest."

A Jack Bramston try, converted by Joe Murphy, gave the Dees the early points, but Oadby responded to lead 15-7. Dees' Duncan Holmes went over after the interval, to which Murphy added a penalty, which was how it remained, locked at 15-15, with seconds on the clock.

Excellent Dees possession and recycled phases then set up an opportunity for Pete Thompson to fire through a decisive drop goal with the last move of the game.

"It was no less than we deserved," said George. "We dominated the second half."

STOCKWOOD PARK completed a clean sweep for local rugby, beating Stewarts & Lloyds 27-19 in Midlands 3 East South.

"It was a huge performance for everyone, we really stepped up to the plate," said chairman Jason Carr.

Leading 22-0 at half-time, following tries from Eddie Wiggins [2] and Kyle Jennings, with Stephen Pollock converting both and adding a penalty, Stockwood added a single Tom Readfern try to their score after the break to hold off their opponents.

Hatters extend their lead

Connection was not an issue for Gray just after the half hour, as he unleashed a 20-yard rocket that had Willem Puddy beaten. The post was on hand to halt Gray's and Town's first real chance.

That was to be Town's most exciting enterprise into Salisbury ranks as they turned their attention to keeping out the self-assured home side for the remainder of the half.

On this evidence the Wiltshire side, sixth before the start of play, will be in and around the play-offs as they continued to stand toe-to-toe with the Hatters. Town had not looked as ordinary as this in quite some time.

Robert Sinclair, brother of Whites' left-winger Stuart, thrashed a shot towards goal on the hour that sailed gratefully into Tyler's arms. The hosts were getting closer.

As time trickled away and frustrations to crack the goal-scoring conundrum continued, tempers began to flare.

A late James Clarke challenge on Ruddock deservedly brought the first yellow card and some heated debate but nothing more tangible.

Neat link-up play looked to have finally unlocked the door for Town but Benson was adjudged offside as he laid the ball on a plate for Gray to side-foot home.

Three minutes later, Gray was denied this time when in a trademark position and ready to pull the trigger by Puddy.

This was not to be Luton's day. A Gray shot into orbit certified that fact. His shot almost landed in nearby Southampton.

Into added time, Benson nodded over when it looked easier to score while Jake Howells flashed a shot wide as Town looked on agitated.

Cambridge's further slip-up in Gloucestershire means a win at the Abbey Stadium for Luton on Tuesday night would all but secure promotion. For all this game's endeavour, Town fans will hope that the top-of-the-table showdown with Richard Money's men lives up to the hype and erases memories of this nondescript encounter.

FOOTBALL

BY NICK SMITH
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

DUNSTABLE Town missed the chance to close the gap at the top of the Southern League Division One Central division yesterday as they could only draw 0-0 at leaders Rugby Town.

Taking a point from a trip to the side who are currently leading the pack is a more than credible result, but Dunstable could have left with more, with Christopher Marsh missing a good chance at the death.

It was a good tempered game, with no rash challenges and was a hard fought contest.

In the first half, the visitors were by far the better team and could have taken the lead.

Leon Cashman forced Niall Cooper in the Rugby goal into a series of good saves, the goalkeeper being the only reason the two sides went in level at the break.

After the restart, the home side burst into life and recorded their first shot on target through David Kolodynski.

He let fly with a fierce effort from 20 yards, but Jamie Head in the Dunstable goal got there in time to make the save.

Dunstable also looked more threatening, with substitute Tony Burnett adding some pace and threat from the wings.

The key moment in the game came with almost the last action of the contest.

Burnett whipped in a cross towards Marsh who was in a good position at the far post.

Had it been a little lower he would have got a foot to it and turned the ball into the net, however he had to try and finish with his chest and the ball ended up the wrong side of the post.

In what was a tight game, it would have been a cruel blow for Rugby to have lost at the death and a draw was definitely a fair result. Dunstable trail Rugby by three points.

Elsewhere in the division, BARTON ROVERS kept their promotion push alive with a 2-1 win over visiting Chalfont St Peter.

Two goals from Kim Forsythe put the visitors to the sword and sent the home side in two goals to the good at the break.

After the restart, Chalfont clawed one back from the penalty spot through Scott Fitzgerald and looked to salvage something from the match, but Barton held on to take all three points.

Barton are fifth in the table and occupy a play-off spot.

In the Spartan South Midlands Premier Division AFC DUNSTABLE drew 0-0 with Hanwell Town at Creasey Park.

Salisbury draw reminds boss of the playground

BLANK: Andre Gray and the Hatters were kept out at Salisbury Picture: Gareth Owen

HATTERS

BY TOM SHARP
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

LUTON Town boss John Still felt it was a case of "playground football" for large periods as his side settled for a 0-0 draw at Salisbury City yesterday.

The Hatters have brushed aside all-comers in recent weeks but looked a little out-of-sorts as they struggled with the plucky hosts for phases of this drab affair.

However, they could have snatched another valuable three points near the end.

Had Town converted one of a number of chances, handed to strike duo Andre Gray and Paul Benson in the final stages, they would have gone into Tuesday's Cambridge showdown holding a 17-point cushion rather than 15 after the U's fell to a sixth league defeat at Forest Green.

"It was a tough game where we competed well but we did not play great," said Still.

"Neither team could get real control with conditions not the best and the attacks were largely spasmodic.

"We definitely could not get into any real rhythm or find our stride until the latter stages so in that aspect I am a little disappointed.

"There was not much quality on show and at times it was more like playground football with a lot of headers away, scuffed shots and rushed play.

"At the end of the day, their home record is impressive and we can see why after that but I am happy overall that we have come away with another point and not conceded."

Despite an overseas adventure with the England C team for Gray and Fraser Franks, who captained the side to a 1-0 victory in Jordan, Still thought both, especially the young defender, showed no signs of fatigue.

"I cannot fault those two today and would not say their trip had bearing on their performance," said the former Dagenham & Redbridge boss.

"In particular I thought Fraser was outstanding at the back and Andre showed flashes of class, especially his shot in the first half that hit the post.

"That experience would have helped rather than hindered them and I hope they get more opportunities like that."

Both should start once more for the Hatters on Tuesday and while most see it as a title decider, Still was again non-plussed by the prospect of facing the chasing Cambridge.

"It is a big game but they all are at this stage so we will attack like any other," he said.

"Obviously we want to win again but that instinct is second-nature to us so it does not change just because of who we are playing or what the circumstance is."
